

BKV July 2015

All flower beds and tubs have now been planted with summer bedding plants. We are now in the hands of mother nature to provide more sun than rain in order to make the village bloom. Hopefully we shall qualify for the next round of judging during July.

The regular litter picks continue to be supported at record levels and new dates of Wednesday 1st, Thursday 9th and Thursday 16th July should be noted. Meet at Village Hall car park at 6.30pm as usual.

Efforts of the team has extended from litter picking to weeding and edging many verges around the village.

The Brownies are also offering support as we involve younger members of the village.

We hope that the overall appearance of the village will encourage all householders to prepare their front gardens in anticipation of the Best Kept Garden Competition, organised by the Garden Guild. Judging takes place sometime in July
